CENTENARY COLLEGE SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

It is inconceivable and of great pain that this journey will end. The mind, the heart refuse to accept it. We are for this instant traveling together and looking out at the world. I have thought that perhaps this is all that we ultimately do to each other—point to all the beautiful things as we pass them and say, “Look.”

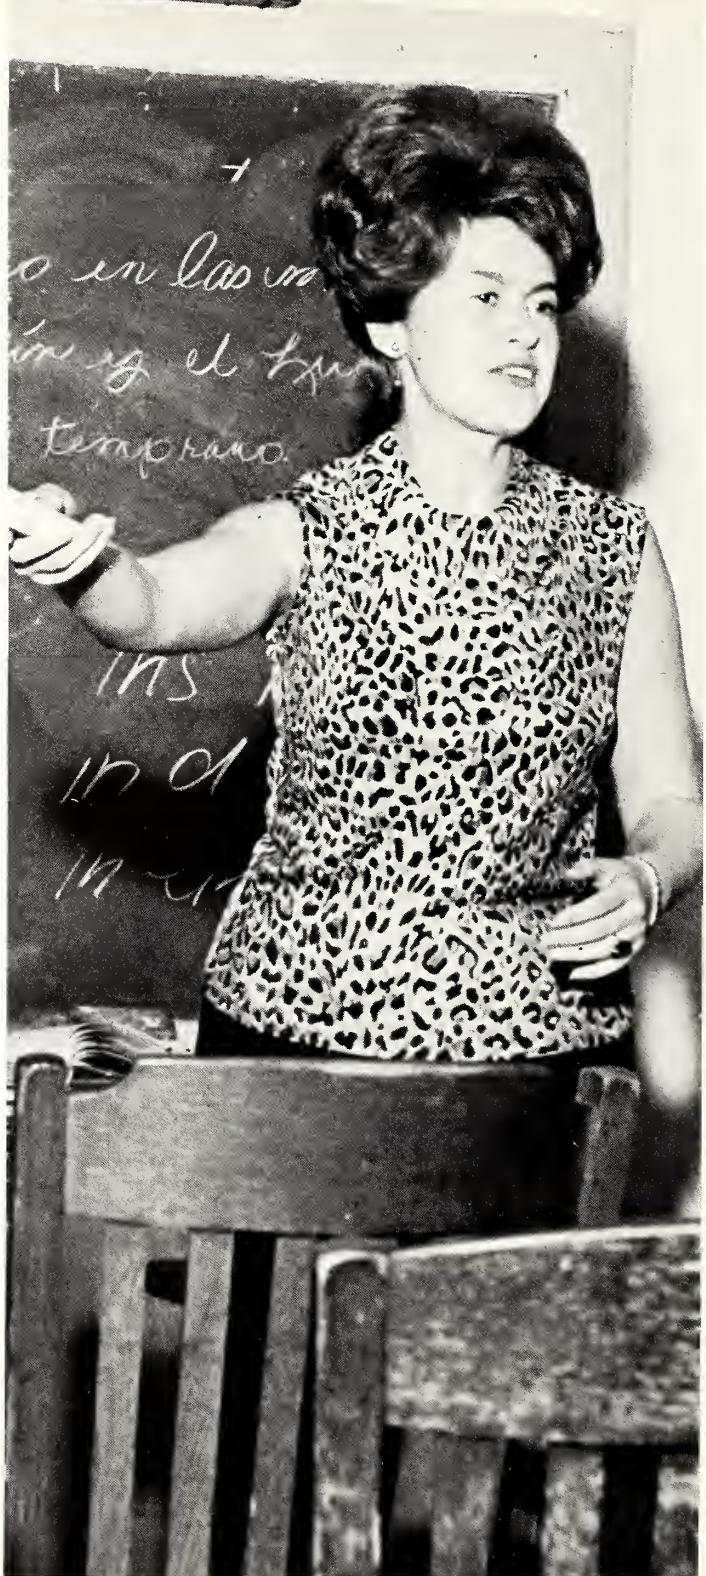

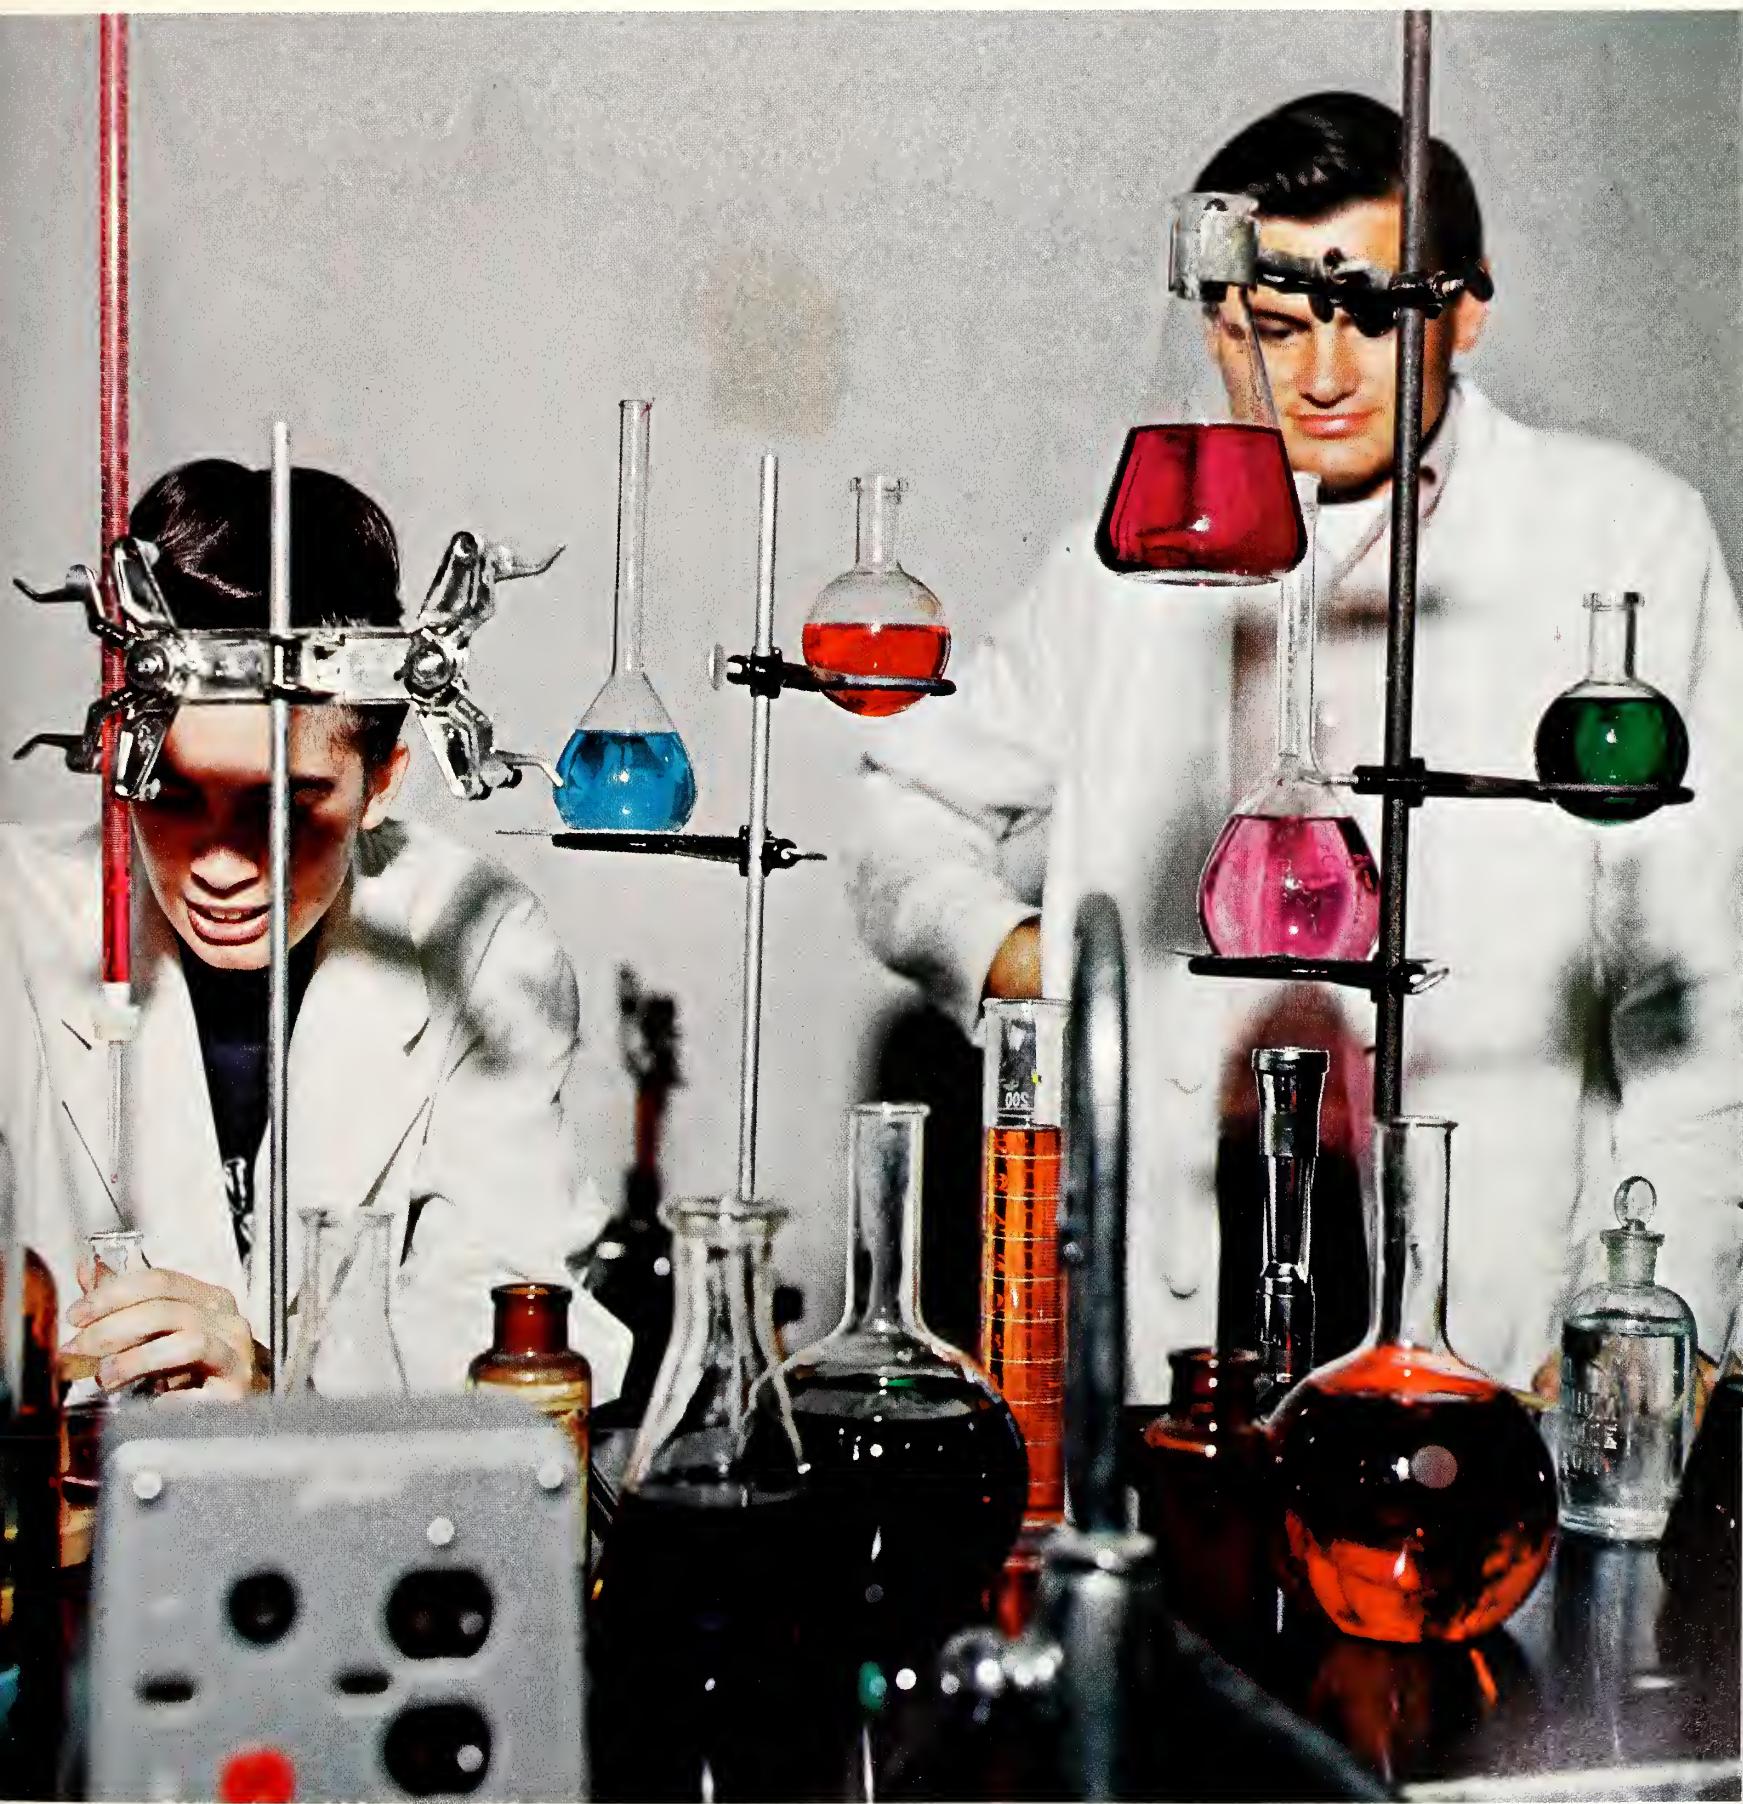

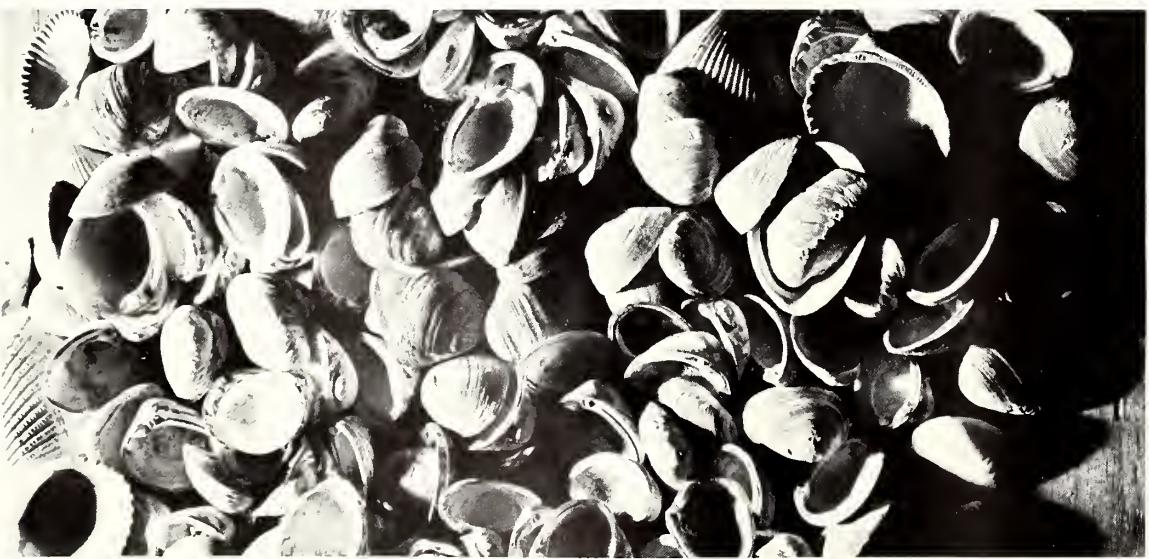

My eyes ache for some flash of recognition. There is no answer. I have no success. Finally, I will not arrive anywhere. There is no sum total of experience, and I will not know where I have come from or gone to.

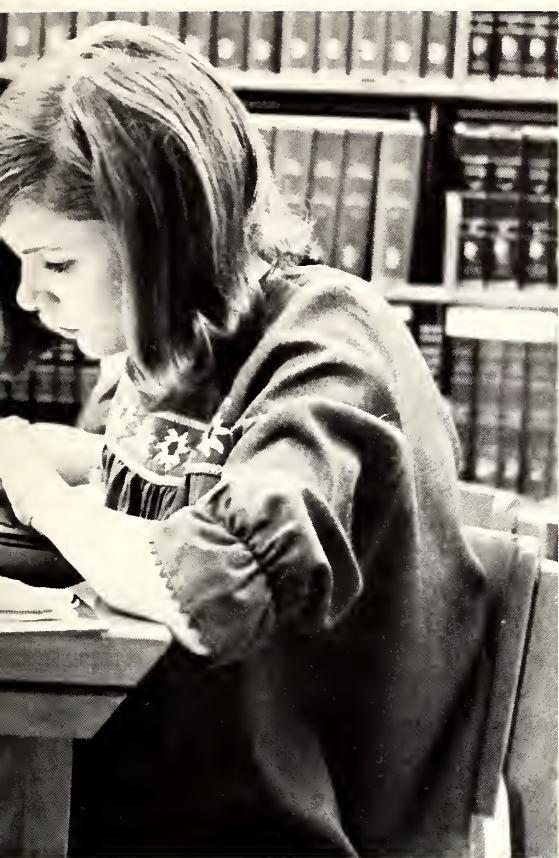

Yet I have come out of this isolation like a child yelling into the light of his newborn world, yelling his head off because the world is flashing with color and sound. Many of the sights and sounds still spin by me and I cannot take account of them all. You have shown me more than I alone could see.

And now the grass seems to grow upward and the trees tower dark and green above you, giving off a light that seems to come from the leaves themselves, and the earth smells mysterious and rich. I have looked at it all before, but now it is strangely alive.

EWING

I have begun this journey in loneliness and fear.
But I will not lose the growth your sight has brought me, for now I have looked out on the world of terror and pity and pain from an isolated thing, lovely in a dark and lonely sky, singing and shining in all that frightened void.

It is as if you create a separate world. In your mind it is a world of fragments—light and color and darkness.

If there is tenderness and if there is a sense of sharing, somehow the bewildering array as it moves by enables us to forget that we are all on a journey which ends, always ends.

STUDENT LIFE

Tall pines and enthusiastic eyes—
A Conference on Student Life—
An atmosphere of communication—Everyone asked, "Where have we been?"
"Where are we going?"

But now, their eager voices echo on the hollow campus—
Brittle leaves can't answer back—
Only the October sun and the laughing ducks remember—

Water off a duck's back—or projects for the future—

What is the essence of—

Issues and Opinions—our potential big scene—
A monotonous sideshow of football jerseys, cafeteria food, parking problems, and library hours—

a flea circus

in a carnival of ideas—

Our parents must have griped about cafeteria food. What about the World Today?

Hanoi—Timothy Leary—a free speech movement—Tiny Alice—

Does a flea circus have a life-time guarantee—

Is student life—

A symphony of "Happiness Is" plays behind locked doors drowning out esoteric mutterings. The layered insecurity and the harsh, intricate battle lines that cloak the Greeks lacks explanation. Why the tension?
Why the flashy pride?

Does the singing of a song off-key or the raising of a foamy cup constitute brotherhood?
How boisterous and repetitious the song of planning parties, having parties and recovering from parties—together.

Fortunately, all that will be remembered is that sometimes-felt comradeship that erases all shallow bitterness and prompts

the song in the heart of

The brotherhood—
The sisterhood

Entertainment—a vital ingredient in the life of the college—and in its future—

Big Name Entertainment—anxious anticipation of release

Highbrow Bands—a suprising reaction of stimulated enjoyment.

"Perspectives on a Revolutionary Age"

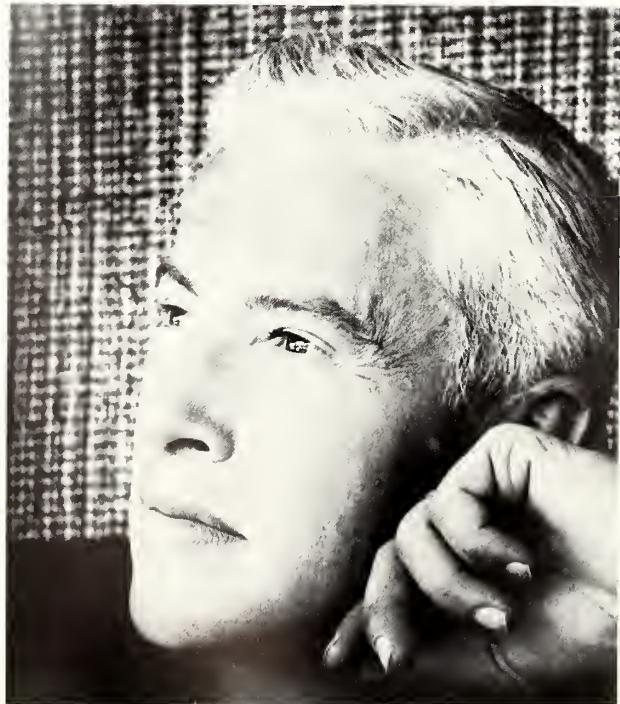

A brilliant schedule of sunrise speakers accompanied by a storm of irregular attendance-

A vain attempt to usher Centenary's thinking into the 20th Century?

Perhaps.

Jack Gilbert—The Orpheus of an upper world that mesmerized Centenary's heart and mind—

Kahlid Baba—Arabian seasoned parochialism with a dash of national flavor—
a lesson in international conservatism.

Henry Bugbee—"To ask me where I stand is to ask me my life."

Colin Wilson—Peak experience, self induced, sans aid from mescaline, and my polythene record bags expand into the entire history of musical creativity—Phenomenology—a panacea for the future???

Saul Alinsky—Revolutionary? Would you believe cast in a 1776 mold?

Events to hurry the time on—

Skits—sing songs—special days on campus—

Reviews—Beauty Pageants—

All crowd the days and lengthen the nights—

And then, there is Chapel.

The events will be forgotten—
The moments last forever—
Times edges are fuzzy throughout—

DEAR GENTS, GIVE 'EM HELL THE ANGELS

A chicken wire flashback for '42 and '57
Tissue paper textures to bridge the time—a homage to memory by the memory-builders.

Once the game—Southern Mississippi
Once the dance—"Just We Five"
Twice the victory—Sweet smell

Wet crepe paper,
Stained hands with fingers crossed
Hell's Angels
Cycles the mouths did ride
The triumph of a special weekend when those who returned asked the buildings,
the people, the college,
"Where have we been?
Where are we going?"

The all too familiar nostalgia of homecomings attempts an impossible forty-eight hour discovery—

a definition of progress

Once upon a time in a Red Brick castle there ruled The Prince and Princess of Rush, Registration and Orientation.
The land was called Compulsory,
for not by the Nary Fairies.
At the beginning of each fall Great Festivals welcomed the new arrivals.
Their Royal Highness' and the Emaciated Elves conspired to make the New Nary Fairy Merry with watermelon and ice cream cones.

But, alas, in the deep, dark Night the Little Fairies cried because they were homesick and because they feared that multi-headed monster Mr. Staff. Yet, they awoke courageously and approached MH-114 with quivering smiles and knocking knees. (Quiver, Quiver, Knock, Knock.)
Nevertheless, in this Kingdom they tarried, although harried—

and lived happily ever after as the—

Merry Harry Nary Fairy.

Minors, Majors and warnings—

A messy room is a major catastrophe—

One more and a Campus or a trip to the Dean—

You gotta learn to live with others—

One way to improve your humanity—

"A Community of Learning"—where some are isolated in a plush twelve-room shack—Others live together in fifty crowded rooms as—

One big happy family

Footsteps on memorized walks where the feeling of everyday is true.

Formulas and graphs plotted by carelessness—broken only when some special sight or sound defies the groove and jumps the rut.

A welded kaleidoscope is a too familiar place.

Strange, how the crossing of a street means spring or air or just a curious second wind—the seldomness of an often release.

How envied the friends who move in other realms—the realms which offer newness.

Newness is an everywhere thing, and everyday is a paradox of here and there

The extreme of slow and fast—pianissimo—allegro—pianissimo.

Allegro—the hours of no sun—the rhythm we know so well.

The cycle of light and dark—the schizophrenia of chiaroscuro.

Personalities of midnight and the objects of their ritual.

Clink! Clink! went the frosted chalices within the neon tabernacle, and at once the sacrificial fires consumed
the machines named lawn mowers, while the nylon favors floated giggling into the animal noises—

How fifty percent the year without the observance of—

Nighttime Nasties
Nocturnal No No's

Eyes unable to focus—
Voices play chaos—
Up too late the eternity before.
And each of us sits there essentially undisturbed and uninterested.

We sit and wait—exist for the spark—the electricity—
the excitement of challenge.

Suddenly the glimpse—for several moments we are bathed in glory—we shout and dance within ourselves
Hope is articulate—change is necessary—
We explore confidently the abyss of our minds—
Lines converge on a point—
We sit precariously on the edge of our souls—

Sometimes our spirits soar—
We are free and untroubled.
We find glory abounding in simplicity.
A kite-speck under control—

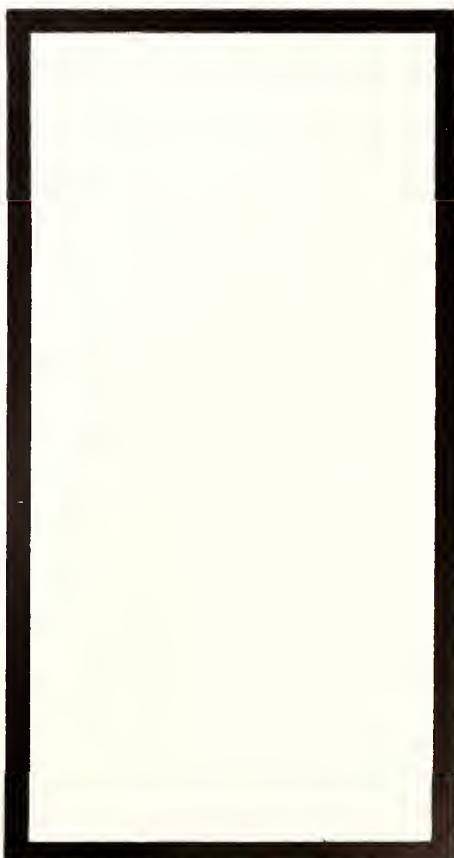

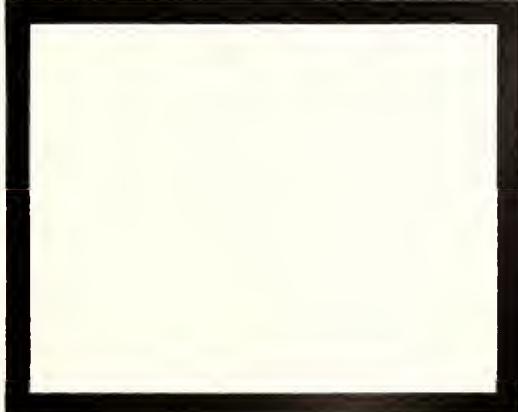

Yet, we do not travel
a Yellow Brick Road to instant pre-packaged Maturity.
We are not unconcerned—or unafraid—
But rather undefined.
Even death holds no absolute.

We are confused by—

Fog Blamed In Collisions Of Four Ships

The Chinese government has issued a decree ordering all military and naval units in Sinkiang to remain in their posts and not to leave the province without permission. The decree was signed by Mao Tse-tung, chairman of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference, and was published in the "People's Daily" on Friday. It states that the Chinese government has decided to maintain the existing administrative and military structures in Sinkiang and to prevent any unauthorized movement of troops or ships. The decree also emphasizes the importance of maintaining peace and stability in the region. The Chinese government has been facing challenges from various sources, including the United States and its allies, who have been critical of its policies and actions. The Chinese government has responded by坚決维护国家统一和领土完整，同时加强国防建设，提高军队战斗力，确保国家安全。The Chinese government has also been working to improve its relations with other countries, particularly the United States, through diplomatic channels.

The Coast Guard was involved in the sinking of the Beaver State, a freighter bound from New York to San Francisco. The ship had been en route for 14 days when it was hit by a typhoon off the coast of Japan. The crew managed to get the ship into port at Nagasaki, where they were able to repair some damage. However, the ship's engine failed again, and it was decided to abandon ship. The crew took to lifeboats and were rescued by a passing freighter. The Beaver State sank with the loss of 39 lives.

In Under Milk Wood Dylan Thomas gave fullest expression to his sense of the magnificent flavor and variety of life. It is a moving and hilarious account of a spring day in a Welsh town, which begins before dawn with dreams and ghosts, moves through the noisy day of the towns people and closes as the "rain of dusk brings on the bawdy night."

The Yoncopin staff secretly asserting its undefined powers wishes to announce, or rather to welcome a new organization established especially for this book. So clandestine is this honorary group that the members themselves were completely ignorant of its existence until this very day. Perhaps some explanation is appropriate concerning (1) the necessity of such an organization, (2) how its members are chosen, and (3) how it differs from "other groups of this type." However, we are not going to offer one. Let it suffice to say that "Who Do" exists solely for the glorification of those faithful, hardworking individuals whom the limelight misses—in short, those "who does but ain't got praised." Because of the abstruse qualifications and the intense selectivity with which "Who Do" members are chosen, it was decided in the initial drafting of the charter that "Who Do" would tap each year exactly one-fourth-plus-one as many members as that "other groups of this type." It is therefore, with great pride and respect that the Yoncopin staff welcomes these six outstanding individuals, persons who have contributed untold personal achievements to the Centenary Campus—We give you "Who Do" 1967.

TO BIND MEN together in a brotherhood based upon eternal and immutable principles, with a bond as strong as right itself and as lasting as humanity; to know no North, no South, no East, no West, but to know man as man, to teach that true men the world over should stand together and contend for supremacy of good over evil; to teach, not politics, but the recognition of true merit wherever found; to have no narrow limits within which to work together for the elevation of man than the outlines of the world; these words written in the nineteenth century by Otis A. Glazebrook are the thoughts and hopes uppermost in the minds of the founders of Delta Alpha fraternity.

The varsity cheerleaders play a vital part in the athletic events at Centenary. Without them, spirit—proper, positive spirit—would be negative. They have provided capable leadership throughout the year, and have changed the picture of spirit at Centenary from one of a howling donneybrook to one of "subdued" enthusiasm. So, to give credit where credit is due, the Yoncopin salutes our five—er, six—er, however many we have—Cheerleaders.

CENTENARY SPILLED IN GRID ATTEMPT

Centenary College's first experience with football since 1946 was dampened here yesterday, Sunday, December 4, by a team of students from Loyola as a thin crowd of four hundred spectators looked on at State Fair Stadium.

Handicapped by a downpour of chilly rain, the Centenary gridders fell victims of a 42-0 shellacking by the visitors.

While the Centenary team was badly beaten in the scoring and in the statistics, they gave 100 per cent on both offense and defense. Loyola had the best of it throughout the game but Centenary's boys never gave up.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Head Coach Orvis Sigler

Coach Doug Mooy

"We are going to be short; and we may not win a lot of ball games, but this will be an exciting team to watch." This was the comment made by head coach Orvis Sigler prior to the beginning of the 1966-67 Centenary basketball season. A few people began to wonder from what sooth-sayer he got his prophetic wisdom, for it certainly was destined to be a true prediction.

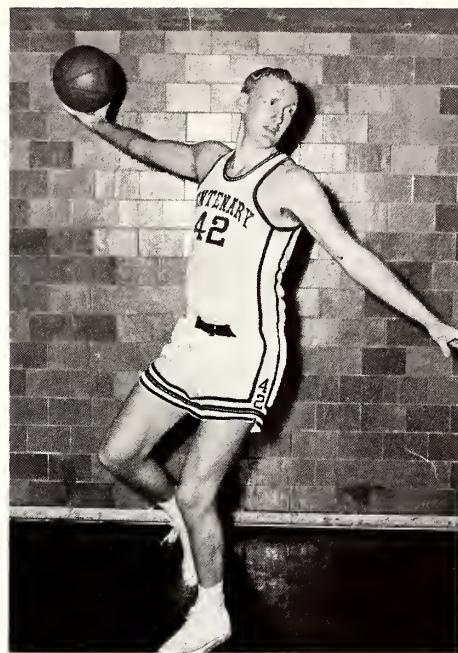

The '66-'67 Gents were men who countered their disadvantages of height with the most potent weapon any team could possess—the desire to win! This desire was intrinsic; and the only evidence of it, that a spectator could see, was the way these men played the game. Gent fans saw these men working like a smooth, five-cylinder engine. This not only produced a great amount of excitement, but also our share of victories (for the campaign). Considering all the opposition which they faced it seems that this was both a memorable and profitable season for the Centenary Gentlemen.

Coach Sigler discusses strategy with the team.

FRESHMEN-VARISTY GAME

Freshmen players carry Coach Shoemaker off the court after their victory over the varsity.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

Coach Larry Shoemaker

The 1966-67 edition of Centenary's Gentlets showed that there are brighter things in store for Centenary's basketball future by nosing out this year's varsity Gents 81-79, in the ninth annual Varsity-Freshman Game.

The frosh, one of the tallest teams ever fielded by Centenary, average about 6'5", even without their curly locks.

Throughout their game schedule, the Gentlet's height advantage has allowed them to control the "boards" and provided the spectators with good, hard-nosed basketball.

Coach Larry Shoemaker has done a fine job in preparing these boys for varsity action, by molding them into a smooth working unit. Several outstanding prospects for the 1967-68 varsity Gents keep coach Orvis Sigler's eyes gleaming with future expectations.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Coach Doug Mooty

Centenary, despite its having only one player bat over .300, posted one of its finest won-lost marks during the 1966 season (18-6). The leading hitter for the Gentlemen, whose batting averaged .245 as a team, was catcher Dellis Germann who pounded the ball for a .353 average.

Bringing the Gents into the 1967 season, big Del found support from teammates Charlie "Red Eye" Grigsby, persistent Ronnie Warren, rapidly-developing Lowell Mask, and several up-and-coming freshmen such as Sonny Moss. With strong pitching from James Gillispie and the remainder of a young but highly competitive staff, the Gentlemen came up with another very respectable season.

One of the most interesting aspects of the 1967 season was the fact that there were only two seniors on the diamond, co-captains Phil Jennings and Jeff Victory. As with some of the other sports at the 'Nary, the baseball outlook seems to have a golden glitter to it. Utilizing the experience gained this year, the Gents should provide fans with great excitement again next season.

VARSITY GOLF

Coach Morton Braswell

Bolstered by the consistent play of returning lettermen Jimmy Brown of Bastrop, Louisiana, and Larry and Terry Stevens of Shreveport, the 1967 Gent golfers experienced a highly enjoyable season. From the Southern Mississippi Invitational until the completion of the schedule, the Gents became increasingly strong in the matches.

Adding to this strength was returning squadman Elmo Cox, along with three very promising freshmen—Guy Bent, Buddy Lockett, and Bob Monstadt. With only "Ole Pro" Brown graduating, the prospect looks exceedingly bright for the 1968 Gent linksters.

The novel aspect of this year's team was the fact that accompanying the men on some of the matches was one of the South's leading women amateurs. Miss Jeannie Butler, a freshman at Centenary, promises to bring laurels not only to herself, but to The 'Nary as well.

Jeannie Butler

WOMEN'S GYMNASTICS

Coach Vannie Edwards

Travel is the keynote for the Centenary gymnastics team. Vannie Edwards and his ten women gymnasts have presented numerous clinics and exhibitions throughout the United States, including six cities in Louisiana, two in Texas, and three in Tennessee.

The highlight of this year's activities was a fabulous nine-day tour of Monterey and Mexico City, Mexico. The Mexicans were not only very hospitable, but were also the most enthusiastic crowds that the team had ever encountered.

Competition commenced with a triangular meet pitting Ohio State, Penn State and Centenary. Victorious in this meet, held in Columbus, Ohio, the gymnasts motored to Kent, Ohio, where they defeated Kent State. The team also faced the University of Southern Illinois in a dual meet later in the year at Carbondale, Illinois. The team also attended the National Championships, the Mid-South Meet, the Women's Intercollegiates, and the North American Championships.

Coach Edwards deserves a lion's share of the credit for the team's performances, for he unselfishly devotes his time to better the team and the sport of gymnastics.

CENTENARY HOSTS GYMNASTICS CLINIC

The third Centenary International Gymnastics Clinic was held this year on February 3rd and 4th. The clinic was attended by 1300 people from 36 different states.

The Canadian Women's team and the Mexican Men's team were also on hand to help with the clinic.

The highlight of the two day workshop was a triangular meet between Canada, Oklahoma, and Centenary, in which the Centenary girls came out on top.

Coach Edwards called the clinic one of the largest in the country and was pleased with the number of people who participated.

VARSITY TENNIS

The 1967 Tennis Gentlemen, coached by Ivan Harless, completed another successful season highlighted by the annual Southern Mississippi Invitational Tournament and thirteen dual matches.

The squad, led by sophomores Bob Strayer, of Erie, Pennsylvania and Gary Sutton of Long Beach, California, gained valuable experience from this spring's competition and should provide Centenary with an even brighter future in the coming years. Sophomore Jimmy Davis, senior Pete Wilcox and sophomore Wayne Curtis round out this year's team.

SORRY—These pictures were discovered after their respective pages had already been sent to the publisher. We hope no one is offended by this rather special and unusual treatment of left-overs. We aren't, and besides we didn't have enough to do anyway. The Editors Journey and Douglass pay their two gun tribute to a Yoncopin neither will ever forget. It's called a sense of sharing—two people working together as editors to put together something called a yearbook. The times were hectic and unbelievable, yet fun. The moments will expand to create a memory.

I heard myself saying that I wanted to sign up for his eight-fifty. I wasn't a science major, so he asked me my major. I mumbled something about English. This set him to r u m m a g i n g through the stacks of papers and magazines on his desk. He had just finished reading an article comparing science and the Humanities. He continued the search for the misplaced information. His enthusiasm and excitement became my own. A fifteen minute episode in a four year experience that can be called the realization of education stands untouched by time. The exchange between individuals, the communication between student and teacher is so seldom this significant. With this tribute we close the 1967 Yoncopin.

Dr. John B. Entrikin, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry
